

Giulia Attocchi

My project is about oak management for high-quality wood production. I work mainly with even aged mature pedunculate oak trees grown in long term experimental forests, located in Denmark, Sweden and Norway. The study is address to investigate three main aspects: tree growth and stand dynamics, wood quality and production risks (e.g. interior stem cracks, moth defoliation, tarry spots and unexpected mortality).